

Troy Dennhof

Troy is a System Vice President, Human Resources at Advocate Aurora Health headquartered in both Chicago, Illinois and Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Advocate Aurora is an integrated health care provider serving communities in both Illinois and Wisconsin. With a comprehensive array of health care resources and access points, Advocate Aurora has a broad portfolio of offerings from primary and specialty care, to hospitals, pharmacies, laboratories and home care. Advocate Aurora has more than 500 locations including 28 hospitals and is among Illinois and Wisconsin's largest private employers with more than 75,000 employees and providers.

In his role, Troy provides strategic direction and leadership to the Wisconsin human resources organization and a centralized system employee relations function. He leads a team to ensure effective application of strategic human capital programs, workforce solutions, tools and best practices to anticipate business needs and identify creative solutions to meet those needs. Troy has more than 20 years of human resources leadership experience in multiple industries including consumer products and durable goods. He has a passion for growing and developing leaders to maximize their impact on the business.

Troy has a bachelor's degree in education from the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater and master's in business administration from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. He is an American Family Field Stadium District Board Member appointed by Wisconsin Governor Tony Evers and a Disability: IN Wisconsin Board Member.